EvictionRecords.com now offers its tenant screening customers the option of using their PayPal account to complete their criminal and eviction check order. EvictionRecords.com has partnered with PayPal to provide their customers the enhanced safety and security that PayPal offers.

Boston, MA (PRWEB) November 28, 2012 -- EvictionRecords.com now offers its tenant screening customers the option of using their PayPal account to complete their criminal and eviction check order. EvictionRecords.com has partnered with PayPal to provide their customers the enhanced safety and security that PayPal offers.

PayPal allows customers to keep security as a top priority, especially when it comes to their important personal and financial information. Their credit card number is stored on their PayPal account, which is extremely secure, and they do not have to provide it to the various merchants they are working with online. Users have the opportunity to pay with their credit card or use the balance on their PayPal account, which would make the purchase like that from a checking account.

In addition to safety, customers will also save valuable time by using PayPal. Most people do not want to spend time inputting tedious information over and over again. When using PayPal on EvictionRecords.com, customers do not have to input their billing and shipping information as that is all stored on their PayPal account. After filling out the tenant screening order form, all they have to do is login to their PayPal account with their e-mail address and password and the purchase is complete. Their criminal and eviction check order results are returned to them instantly.

For years, customers have been turning to EvictionRecords.com for the fastest, most reliable and most accurate tenant eviction check information. The website helps landlords determine who will be a good fit for their properties and property managers determine who will make great tenants. EvictionRecords.com has always made safety and security a top priority for their customers, especially when it comes to important and personal financial information. The partnership with PayPal is just an added bonus for customers of EvictionRecords.com — an extra level of security so they know they can trust the company completely for their tenant screening needs.

Customers should also be relieved to know that when they purchase their criminal and eviction checks using PayPal, they are covered by the PayPal fraud policy which protects their purchase. Once their purchase is made, they know that they will receive the tenant screening reports they need in order to make the best decision possible — and they will receive the reports immediately. Now, customers of EvictionRecords.com have the benefit of making an instant payment that is safe and secure, knowing full well they will be armed with the knowledge they need to make the best decision for themselves, their company or for their loved ones that they are caring for each day. EvictionRecords.com prides itself on giving customers the best data in the most organized way, as well as allowing them an easy way to get that information which has been made even easier through the partnership with PayPal.
